

You have the gift of seeing the best in people and are kind and caring to those who need your help. You have a lot of empathy - you can put yourself in someone else's shoes to imagine how they are feeling. Your optimistic attitude is contagious and helps friends to be more open-minded. You also love coming up with different ideas on how to solve a problem.

You are a Fire sign and with that comes impatience. You like to get moving and sometimes you fail to plan things out in detail. You also can be very sensitive and get your feelings hurt when friends don't view the world as you do. Try not to be so preachy! Your friends get enough lectures in school!

You are an intense sign. You love magic and mystery and people are naturally drawn to you. You love to be the leader and tend to make a great one. You treat your friends as if they are family; however, you only share your secrets with one or two very special people whom you trust completely. A Scorpio will always forgive - but will never forget. Once you break the trust of a Scorpio, things are never the same again.

You are often seen as secretive because you don't spill the beans to everyone. Friends want to get to know you, but you won't open up and share things with them until they fully gain your trust. You are often seen as moody and insulting - especially when you are bored. Be careful that you don't hurt someone's feelings the next time you roll your eyes!

You're a fire sign who's a natural born leader! You are up for challenges and ready to sink all of your energy into whatever piques your interest. You play to win and are willing to work hard at achieving your goals. You generally tend to have only one "best friend" and a loyal group whom you love and cherish. You are an attentive listener - as long as it holds your interest.

An Aries gal can often get irritated or bored at a moment's notice. You dislike being told what to do and often get in trouble for talking back or questioning those who are higher than you are. Sometimes you are a little too bossy and rub people the wrong way. Once they know who you are inside, they will learn you meant well! So, be sure to let your soft side shine once in a while.

It doesn't matter if people are short, tall, rich, poor, or from the other end of the globe - you love your friends for who they are on the inside. You believe in peace and that everyone should get along so you will go the extra mile to help settle an argument. You are very creative, inventive and you take a unique approach to living your life. Many of your friends call you a true original!

You, Airy Aquarius, sometimes get swept away with your troubles! You often feel that your problems are more important than anything else in the world, so your feelings get hurt if a friend can't be there for you like you expect. You also tend to question your decisions and can lack self-confidence when suggesting something new. You have so many great ideas - make sure you share them!

You are a sympathetic person who feels deeply for others. You are very sensitive and understanding when it comes to your friends and you show them lots of kindness and compassion. You love music and art and can get lost in a movie. You tend to be shy and quiet, but you have a great memory and sense of humor.

You tend to blame yourself for everything that goes wrong and often have way too much self-pity. You can become needy of others - especially when you are feeling insecure. Your friends love you and will do anything for you, but they wish you could see how wonderful you truly are!

You are a practical Earth sign who is realistic and hard-working. You are filled with determination, planning and persistence when you set your sights on something. You tend to have a reputation for giving good advice to friends in need. You are very generous and make an extremely loyal friend. Once you love somebody, you love them forever.

Sometimes you are not the best judge of character. If a friend you trust lets you down or betrays you, your suspicions rise and often never come down. You sometimes test your friends to see if you can really trust them. You also can be unforgiving - especially if someone teases you! Sometimes you just have to learn to lighten up!

You're a glamour person by nature and you love looking and feeling your best. You pay attention to details and are very thorough in your projects. You are very loving and dependable and your calm personality always puts everyone at ease. You are also loyal to your friends and will always stick by them - even in the worst of times.

You, Earthy Taurus, get easily embarrassed! Sometimes you take too long to make a decision and you miss an opportunity or come across as slow-moving. You love nice things, but remember: you have to work hard to get them! You can be awfully stubborn too - they don't call you the Bull for nothing!

You are very kind and you regard your friends like they are your family. You are very patient, gentle and compassionate to others, and are the first one to give a friend a hug when they have had a bad day. You truly care when friends tell you their problems. If you have a younger sibling, you are very protective of them because you love your family so much!

8

You tend to be on the shy side! Being shy can be a problem when you really want something and are afraid to speak up. You get your feelings hurt often, and instead of getting to the heart of the matter and fixing it, you tend to let it build up inside. It's okay to tell someone how you are feeling, and with your Cancer care, you will do it with kindness! Also, watch those mood swings!

You are a great communicator and you love to talk! Your charm and wit often help you persuade people to see things your way. You pay close attention to details and are very curious. You love an adventure and you are always ready to explore or learn new things. You are also a great storyteller! You are often the one in the middle of the circle telling scary stories!

With all of the stories you love to tell, sometimes you get carried away and stretch out the truth. You love making things interesting and will add details that don't exist just to get a reaction. Be careful with that - you could get in trouble! You also tend to gossip, and because The Twins represent your sign, you can be known to have a dual personality.

You are excellent in friendships and partnerships, meaning you play well with a team. Your charm and cooperative nature makes you a great person to smooth over rough spots when friends have a disagreement. You are an honest friend and they trust you with their deepest secrets. You are also very artistic and love drawing, painting, singing or anything else creative.

You have a hard time making decisions. Sometimes you are afraid of making the wrong choice, so you mope around and worry about it much longer than you should. You also get cranky when you are forced to make up your mind before you are ready!

You have a hard working, dedicated personality that wants perfection in all you do. You are a loyal friend who is very considerate of other people's feelings. Because you are very organized, you make the perfect party planner! You love reading books and magazines on a regular basis. Cleanliness and a healthy lifestyle are important to you.

Since you want to be perfect in all you do, you are often very hard on yourself and never happy with anything you are working on. This can make you cranky and irritable, nervous and worried. Listen to your friends when they tell you you've done a great job!

Your sunny disposition is always a happy sight! You are fun and playful and enjoy being around people who are exciting. You always liven up a party and you make a great cheerleader for your friends! You are the first to say, "You can do it!" or "Wow! You did a great job!" You are also ambitious and know you must work hard so you can play hard!

You like to be noticed! While it's often a good thing to stand out in a crowd, you sometimes get pouty if you feel that others don't appreciate what you have done. You give a lot of praise to others, and you expect it back in return! Don't get your feelings hurt if they don't gush over how wonderful you are... inside they know you are terrific!
